WELCOME TO NAPLES

Naples is located in Southern Italy in the region of Campania. It sits on the coast of the northern edge of the Bay of Naples, which is dominated by Mt. Vesuvius.

Naples was founded by the Greeks in 600 B.C. and conquered by the Romans in fourth century B.C. The city of Naples prospered under the rule of the Roman Empire and became known for its beautiful coastline and thermal spas.

After the fall of the Roman Empire, the city became an Independent Duchy of Byzantium and further developed its economic and cultural affairs. The Normans followed shortly after and made Naples part of the Kingdom of Sicily. When Naples was taken under Argon control, it flourished in cultural and artistic endeavors that created churches and monuments making Naples a popular meeting point for artists.

During the following centuries, the city was ruled by the Spaniards and in 1806 Napoleon passed the thrown to his brother Giuseppe Bonaparte. Between 1806 and 1815, the city was influenced by the French. In 1860, the city was conquered by the Garibaldines and was handed over to the king of Sardinia. A ruling of the people sanctioned the end of the kingdom of Sicily and the birth of the Kingdom of Italy in 1870.

Today, Naples is filled with extraordinary works of art and architecture in the classical Greek and Roman styles and is one of the world's greatest cultural centers.
